

FREE SCREENING

May 10, 2018, 6:00 p.m.

Benedictine University—Goodwin Hall
5700 College Road, Lisle, IL

clicking here to RSVP

The Long Shadow is a powerful documentary about the origins and legacy of slavery. Investigative journalist Frances Causey explores her family history of slaveholding, tracing slavery's history from America's founding through its insidious ties to racism in America today.

Following the screening, there will be a "Let's Be Clear" conversation about how we can engage others in conversations about the divisive and lasting effects of racism, slavery, and white privilege in order to build greater understanding and acceptance.

Visit www.thelongshadowfilm.com for more info. and to see the trailer

Sponsored by AALR & B.A.C.K.S.A.C.K. Intl.

Hosted by Benedictine University

